Pildoras Holloway

Las virtudes de esta admirable medicina son especialmente eficaces para expulsar de la Sangre toda impureza. En los casos de debilidad, ella es incomparable, al paso que cura radicalmente las Indigestiones, y los desordenes generales del Higado, del Estomago, y de los Intestinos, restableciendose, como por encanto, el vigor y la salud normal, dichas Pildoras remueven asimismo las dolencias que suelen afligir a las Mugeres al llegar estas a la edad critica.

Este incomparable Balsamo sana los Males de Piernas y de Pecho, las Llagas Antiguas, y aun esas Ulceras cuyo orijen no conviene mencionar en un anuncio publico. Para todas las Erupciones cutaneas no hay remedio igual al Unguento Holloway, al que millares deben la salvacion tanto de sus Brazos y Piernas como de su existencia.

Antes de comprar, examinese con mucha cautela el Rotulo en el Bote o la Caja, para cerciorarse si esta la direccion de 533, Oxford Street, London, pues si no esta, entonces se trata de perpetrar un descarado engaño.

They also have copies of plans of National lands sold and for sale, both within and outside the exterior frontier line of the provinces of Buenos Aires, Santa Fe, and Cordova.

A thorough knowledge of the laws that govern the matter, and of the quality of the lands, is the best guarantee they can offer their customers.

Following news from Rio received via Rio Grande:—

Rio, 15th—Very hot discussions in the Senate between Liberals and Conservatives. Signor Saraiva, at the requisition of Signor Correa, said he would present a bill for the reform of the election laws in the usual way, and that economical reforms and repeal of obnoxious taxes would be proposed forthwith.

Signor Saraiva went into a long explanation of his policy as President of the former Cabinet, and Vicount Rio Branco attacked said policy in a long speech, condemned his plan of dissolving the Chambers, and said he would propose the reform of the Constitution, in order to establish the direct vote in the elections.

Here we go on quietly useful reforms introduced every day and well accepted.

PROVINCIAL BANK REPORT.

The Memoria of the Provincial Bank for 1879 is well got up and is highly instructive.

1. The President states that he has been enabled to reduce the price of gold from 33.30 on 1st Jan. to 31 on 31st Dec., equal to an improvement in our currency of 9 per cent.

2. That in addition to the credits held by the Bank on England and France, several other Banks have offered him facilities.

5. In order to control the circulation, the Board has changed its system of discounts, limiting the amount of six months trade pagares, and giving as much money as possible to the producers against 'letras' at longer dates.

6. The falling off in deposits has obliged the Bank to limit its discount operations.

7. The Board did not consider it advisable to raise the rate of interest, because the scarcity of the circulating medium arises from the increased amount of commercial operations, from the rapid increase of the population, from the stocking the new frontier lands, and also in some degree from the fact of part of our currency being absorbed by the neighbouring provinces.

That the Board will find itself compelled to limit still further its discounts, being already unable to satisfy the applications made to them.

It is satisfactory to see that our currency has improved 9 per cent in the course of the year, because the amount of capital directly influenced by the price of gold, as given by the Libertad a few weeks ago, being 79 millions pesos fuertes, the country has thereby gained 7,110,000 fuertes; and the Board hopes to be able gradually to improve still more the value of the paper dollar.

The falling off in the amount of deposits in the past year has been $21,116,227, and is accounted for by the development of our cattle and rural property, and the increased deposits of Cedulas in the Banco Hipotecario, which in February last amounted to $f.3,515,300. The falling off in commercial deposits has been $31,208,910, and it would be worth while to enquire if this has not been caused by the restrictions in the discount of trade bills, having obliged commercial houses to increase their transactions with the private banks; and also if by raising the rate of interest these deposits could not be again attracted to the Bank.

We are very much struck with the number of large depositors; our impression was that the bulk of the deposits belonged to the labouring class, but this is evidently not the case, as of the currency deposits 936 persons hold over $270,000 each, and 17,586 only $30,000 each.

Depositos a premio, fuertes—$f.4,453,448, held by 974 persons; $3,485,940 belong to 212 persons.

Depositos a moneda corriente—535,451,383, held by 18,522 persons; 255,881.037 belong to 936 persons.

Depositos comerciales, fuertes—2,136,895, held by 334 persons; 2,035,440 belong to 60 persons.

Depositos comerciales, moneda corriente—97,511,051, held by 1648 persons; 78,860,149 belong to 251 persons.

Increasing the deposits the Bank will have a greater amount to lend to the general public. On the 31st. December last the deposits were:

	Deposits	Bills Discount.
31 Dec. 1879.....	38,919,763	34,313,45[illegible]
Do 1878.....	40,838,945	3[illegible],810,869
Do 1877.....	41,935,874	34,903,381
Do 1876.....	37,138,025	32,264,895
Do 1875.....	36,831,123	39,278,926

A very large proportion of the capital of the Bank and its emission seem to be absorbed by Government paper and 'deudores morosos' the following statement appearing by the balance sheets at the end of each year.

31st Dec. 1879 capital and emission $f.42,221,005, Governments and deudores morosos $f.48,004,191.

31st Dec. 1878 capital and emission $f.40,003,897, Governments and deudores morosos $f.47,642,247.

31st Dec. 1877 capital and emission $f. 37,858,086, Governments and deudores morores $f. 45,619,872.

31st Dec. 1776 capital and emission $f.36,454,434, Governments and deudores morosos $f.37,481,763.

31st Dec. 1875 capital and emission $f. 29,663,482, Governments and deudores morosos $f.27,764,736.

The exchange transactions have been very satisfactory to the Bank which during the year drew to the extent of £1,888,112 6s 5d at an average rate of 38d. 08013ths and remitted £2,054,599 11s 3d at an average of 38d 42893ths, thus giving a profit of over ⅝ p. cent, but from this we presume Bank commission and bill stamps in Europe have to be deducted.

The report on page 23 of Don Carlos M. Marenco, the inspector of the branch banks is an able and valuable document. The capital granted to them in 1878 was 110,300,000 $m/c. and increased in 1879 to 114,300,000. Their deposits amounted on 29th November to 178,251,562 $m/c., being $ 1,444,385 less than on 30th November 1878: the deposits of minors having increased $ 1,561,019 and commercial deposits having decreased $. 2,608,295.

The average capital employed has been $77,978,083, and has given a profit of $4,337,473, or 5.56 p.c. nett, but there are $23,213,945 to the debt of 'Deudores Morosos,' being an increase in the year of $2,425,844.

Sr Marenco strongly urges the abolition of the local boards and the concentration of the whole power and responsibility in efficient and responsible bank managers, the local directors being too much influenced by the passions of small country towns. This recommendation is worthy of attention, and it is questionable if the same principle might not be advantageously applied to the Central Board, when the new constitution of the Bank comes to be discussed.

On the whole, it is satisfactory to see that our great credit establishment is in such a flourishing state, the profit in 1879 being $59,699,320 m/c., thanks to the ability of its worthy President, Dr. Don Vicente Fidel Lopez, and his colleagues on the Board, and we recommend a perusal of the Report to such of our readers as take an interest in these matters, which affect the well-being of the whole community.

THE CALLE MORENO SCANDAL.

The attack on President Avellaneda's house in Calle Moreno on last Sunday night has awakened such intense excitement in the city and given rise to so many alarming rumours that it is even now, three days after the occurrence, very hard to get at the facts of the case. So that our readers may have both sides of the question before them, we give the following resumen, taken from two of our most respectable colleagues—the Republica and the Nacion—as also the official Police report. The indignation in the public mind at this scandalous business has in nothing abated, but is rather on the increase.

Don Exequiel Zapiola, whose house is next President Avellaneda's in Calle Moreno, gives the following account to the Nacion—"About 9.30 p.m. I was walking home with my daughters along Calle Piedras, and when passing the San Juan Church heard three or four reports, which my daughters said were rockets, but I at once knew were revolver shots. On reaching the corner of Moreno and Piedras I saw three or four Tiro Nacional men walking quietly along (Westward) and two policemen in front of them. I walked on towards my house, the Tiros and policemen walking on the opposite side of the street. When about 40 steps from my own door, I saw some of the soldiers at the President's door take aim with their carbines, apparently waiting the order to fire. I had not even time to put my daughters behind a street door for shelter, when the soldiers fired on the Tiros, who ran back rapidly towards the corner of Piedras, crying 'murder!' I also ran in the same direction and found that none of the Tiros were wounded, nor had they any arms, as one of them asked me to lend him a revolver to defend his life. Meanwhile the vigilantes at both corners kept whistling, and a crowd collected at the corner: there was also a tramcar off the line, and some say that persons in this car had fired at the soldiers of the Escort when passing the President's house. The Commissary and other police officials then came up and took the Tiro men to the Comisaria, to make their declarations. This is all I saw of the affair."

'An Impartial Person' says as follows, in the Republica:—

"About 9½ or 10 o'clock a mob, amongst which were some 'volunteer' uniforms, approached the President's house, and three or four fellows crept cautiously up and seized the sentry from behind, crying 'don't move!' Almost at the same moment the crowd fired a volley with revolvers, the bullets lodging in the wall, windows and hall door. In the 'zaguan' was the corporal of the guard, in the second patio two more soldiers, and in the aides-de-camp's rooms the young officer who commanded the guard, Lieut. Montiel. The corporal, on hearing the firing, ran to the door to help his comrade, and was met with another volley, one bullet going through the sleeve of his pelisse, and others through his poncho: he then fired two shots over the crowd, the balls striking the wall in front. Meanwhile the officer ran to call the other soldiers, and the mob increased, while shouts of 'Viva Tejedor' were raised. The vigilantes, however, remained at their corners, as if they neither saw nor heard anything. Several persons then pushed through the mob and tried to quell the tumult by crying 'basta.' At last a Commissary and some policemen arrived and, as a matter of form, arrested two or three volunteers who had been most conspicuous in the attack.

The official police report is as follows:—

"To Colonel Garmendia, Chief of Police.

At 9¾ p.m. firing was heard and the vigilantes at the Central Market went to Calle Moreno, opposite the President's house, and arrested M. Pacheco, F. Pereyra, and Manuel Duran, the first two of the Resistencia and the last of the Patricios Battalion. When questioned they said it was nothing, and that the soldiers had fired. I then went to the President's house, and the officer of the guard told me that on hearing the revolver volley at the sentinel he rushed out and saw some Volunteers running away. The corporal declared that two Volunteers passing the house on the same side of the street had fired point blank at him with revolvers, and two others on the opposite pathway also, one bullet wounding him slightly in the left arm. I saw a slight wound, 6 inches below the shoulder. There are several bullet holes in the hall door, and the balls fired by the soldiers can be seen in the walls opposite. The three volunteers who were arrested declare that the three soldiers cried 'Viva Roca' and fired on them when they answered it. The Volunteers had no arms about them when searched. Messrs. Huergo (3) declare that the soldiers fired, but they saw no provocation by the Volunteers. Messrs. Silva and Donnelly told me that they had heard that two waiters in the 'Dos Chinos' cakeshop had said that the row began by some Volunteers in a tram car shouting 'Viva Buenos Ayres!' and the soldiers fired on them, and also on other Volunteers who were walking past. I went to the cakeshop, and the waiters referred to said they knew nothing whatever of the affair, except what they had heard from people in the shop. I then called on Mr. Diaz, the grocer in Calle Moreno, and his assistant says he saw Volunteers trying to tear up stones and defying the soldiers to fire, and the latter did fire. I also took Don E. Zapiola's declaration (given above. Ed.) Mr. Claud Stegman says he first heard the revolver shots, then ran to his hall door and saw the soldiers fire: but he could not say from which side the provocation came. One of the Volunteers arrested is an Argentine, a widower, and a labourer 35 years old: the second is an Oriental, a bachelor 24 years old, a Custom House employee, and the third is an Argentine, 19 years old, a bachelor: They all know how to write.

April 19th.

We are sensibly bettering our political position, and McEachen's policy seems to meet the general acceptance of the people. If he be allowed to go on in the course he has taken, no doubt with the decided support of President Vidal, much will be accomplished that was thought impossible under the military influences that were thought sufficiently strong to prevent any possibility of return to the constitutional guarantees of the country. The opposition press does not fully accept the new order of things, yet they now discuss the convenience of it, and the leaders have had a meeting and are going to publish a programme of their policy. Very energetic measures are being taken by the Government to stop the frequent abuses committed by some of the police authorities outside, and even in town, with regard to the means resorted to to imprison supposed culprits, which went so far as to flog and otherwise hurt the people taken up, and some useful changes in the employees are daily taking place, to prevent this. Some very equivocal remarks are made by the press, (which, by the bye, has now become powerful in developing the new order of things) on the subject of the Lapido estate, which seem to have developed into smoke, if we are to believe what is said on the subject; also on the subject of the $48,000 taken out of the lottery funds on or about the 31st ult. These things require yet to be cleared up properly, and no doubt it will be done when Colonel Latorre returns from excursion to Cerro Largo, if he does not wish to incur very severe interpretations and public censure. These things and many others are daily brought against him by the opposition press, and they all have the appearance of foul play, consequently, in true English ideas of 'fair play,' we must hear what he has to say for himself before condemning him.

At last the Government has decided to do away with the Captain of the Port's abuse in making poor pilots pay for a ponton depot at Point Farallon which was of no use, ordered the amounts collected unduly during the month to be returned, and I am sorry that the amounts collected for many months past was not also ordered. Still 'better late than never.' I am afraid that during Colonel Latorre's administration many of his satellites profited unduly of his unlimitted power and all these will be now brought out against him and have the effect of throwing a cloud on all his good acts. Such are always the effects of despotic irresponsible government; but, who is to blame? Bring not, ye that will not have such evil consequences, the necessity of such governments. I say! keep ye the country in peace, do not resort to arms every day to redress your wrongs, and despotic sway will never be the bane of your institutions. Even now, who knows what will be the end of all this convulsive effort to bring things into the right channel of constitutional order? I admire and applaud President Vidal and Minister McEachen for their efforts, and they do their duty; but how long will it last? Shall we have peace, peace? Will the country be allowed this year to go on in quiet, that the farmer and the cattle breeder may prosper one year more; and will the estanciero's cows be his own one or two years more, that the country may prosper and the hard working man get his deserts for his industry and perseverance? There is the difficulty, and all these things are not begotten by means of empty words and a hullabaloo on constitutional doctrines, good as they are when wanted.

I hear McEachen is energetic and firm, and I hope he may not find that he has got the white elephant to deal with.

Among other very touchy points brought out against the dictatorship, the High Court of Justice seems to be put into the frying pan. Its members are asked to resign office as having been the abettors of the illegal acts of the dictator in allowing his government to infringe the laws of Justice in the daily abuse of force on poor victims incarcerated on pretence of crimes they never committed, or at least that never were proved against them. The said 'Tribunal' is trying very hard to vindicate itself, but the mood is at present against them and popular feeling is not in their favor. What will be the end of the flare-up against it is difficult to imagine, yet I am inclined to think that it may end by some of the members leaving their post, and perhaps it will be all the better if it end thus. Justice is the basis of the welfare of the people, and we cannot do too much to obtain this end. There is nothing in the country that so richly deserves reform as our present administration of justice; nowhere where I should employ the dread of the 'Adoquines' workhouse so well. We have many very clever lawyers, some very honest straightforward judges at the head of the different branches of the administration; but I never heard of any country where justice is so dear, though there are those where high principles are paramount in doing justice between man and man, as dear old England, and I am sorry to say that I do not include—all countries. Consequently let us have a change for the better if possible, let us be sure of a useful reform in this country.

Our daily press is making strenuous efforts to re-establish the good old reputation the lottery of this country enjoyed in all the neighbouring countries, and in reality the playing of it is done very fairly. It is only with regard to the employment of the moneys won by the establishment that the trouble was brought on.

Will you be pleased to send me your valuable journal addressed to me personally?

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Yesterday was another extremely lively day. In the morning the 'gobemouches' had it that the decree for a state of siege was signed: before noon it was known that this was all bosh. The public interest turned to the meeting of the Senate to scrutinize the March elections. There was some excitement and a crowd of idlers in Calle Moreno, and when the doors were opened the 'barra' was instantly filled with Tiro Nacional men. The House named Messrs. Rufino Varela, Juan Jose Montes de Oca, Mariano Demaria, G. Torres and — Real as a Committee to scrutinize the elections.

The La Paz Club issued another manifesto yesterday, calling on all good citizens to await the decision of the supreme judge—Congress—in the matter of the Presidential elections. This is sound advice, and it is to be hoped it will be followed.

Particulars of the ruction in Calle Moreno on Sunday night will be found in another column. It is clear enough which side the provocation came from, but it is better to let the subject drop. Fortunately no lives were lost.

The Buenos Ayres Junior Athletic Society publish an important advertisement in another column. Their next competition meeting will be on 6th of May.

The Rev. James Smith will preach on Sunday next at Lomas, in the house of Mrs Marshall, at 4 o'clock. Morning and evening service in the Scotch Church as usual. We are most happy to hear that the Rev. James Fleming is expected back tomorrow from his trip to the Sierras of Cordoba, which has much benefited his health.

Our musical friends should not forget Professor Beck's concert on the 24th, Saturday next. His concerts are always good. Tickets at Nolte's bookshop.

English doctors are taking the Faculty of Buenos Ayres by storm. Dr Colbourne's recent examination was of the most brilliant; Dr Rodman has also passed. We referred to Dr Mulcahy yesterday, and we hear of other English doctors who are preparing for the ordeal, Success to them all.

The news from Rio, which our Montevidean Correspondent, Mr. Stand-by O'Gorman, sends us, is highly important. Great reforms are at hand in the Empire. Viscount Rio Branco proposes to reform the Constitution so that the people may vote direct, as in England, without all the paraphernalia of Electoral Colleges etc, which only serve to stifle the voice of the people. We want the vote direct in the River Plate also.

The very latest sensation in old Boston is a book entitled 'Monarchism' which defends the monarchical system and proposes General Grant as first king of the United States. Ulysses the First would not sound badly.

A company of Japanese acrobats will be here for the May Fetes; they are now in Rio.

The Montevidean papers teem with the decrees and excellent new measures ordered by the indefatigable Minister MacEachen, all well received by the public. Several officials, high and low, are getting it hot and strong from the new Minister. The infusion of Scotch blood into the Montevidean Cabinet appears to be working wonders down there. The Oriental Government has changed its mind, and that country will not be officially represented at the Buenos Ayres Exhibition.

The first sod of the ground for the Exhibition Building has not been turned yet, but we received yesterday from the talented manager of the workshops the highly agreeable news that these are now at work in Plaza 25 de Mayo. Viva! We'll go and see them to-morrow morning before we touch a morsel of breakfast, or even the peep-o-day cup of tea. The Exhibition is under weigh at last.

The coming Buenos Ayres Exhibition will boast of one delightful department which has as yet been wanting at Exhibitions, whether held at Paris, London, Philadelphia or Vienna, viz, a Ladies Department. A Committee of 14 of the most distinguished dames of the city has been named to attend to this section of the Exhibition, which is certain to have legions of visitors.

The weather at Montevideo was so bad on Sunday that no performance took place at the Solis and Cibils theatres; it is reported that the lightning killed a woman.

At Parana a statue is about being raised to the late General Urquiza.

We have been honoured with nomination as a member of the Rivadavia Centenary Committee, and shall feel most happy if we can in any way contribute to do honour to the memory of one of the greatest of Argentina's sons, Bernardino Rivadavia.

Great pressure on our space today compels us to hold over some further remarks on the Cattle Show, and also to cut this column short. Yesterday, there were a large number of English visitors at the Show; at moments we almost fancied ourselves at Islington or in the Duke's Lawn, the remarks around being all in our mother tongue, and the finest animals having a decided smack of Durham, Kildare or Kerry about them. To-day will be a good day to visit the Show; all the machinery will be set in motion at three o'clock and all the thoroughbred horses will be paraded for the inspection of the public.

We regret very much that our limited space will not admit of our translating the truly magnificent article of our highly esteemed colleague Dr. Cittadini, of the Patria, on the decadence of the Press of Buenos Ayres: His incisive pen has never traced a truer or more telling article. The Newgate Calendar would hesitate to print the moral filth which some Buenos Ayres papers disgrace their pages and the Press by publishing. Dr. Cittadini's eloquent remarks are a noble vindication of the high mission of the Press.

THE IRISH CONVENT.

To the Editor of the Standard.

Dear Mr. Editor,

Before the Irish Convent passes to its third stage of shaky occupancy, allow me to say a word upon this and the two stages it has already passed through. During the first, some 20 years I suppose, it was occupied by the Irish Nuns. The girls, they educated there and in Mercedes I have seen. If better daughters, better sisters, better wives, better mothers, exist in any land, I should be glad to know. If the education that makes good sisters, daughters, wives, mothers, is not the proper education for the daughters of Irishmen, in the name of Christianity what education do they want? Not having taught 'fast dancing'—a more than questionable accomplishment—is the only defect I have yet heard of in the education the Nuns imparted.

Yet the Irish Nuns are gone, and have left the convent behind them, and left another convent behind them, and left over half-a-million of their own money sunk in those convents. Seven of those who came originally from Ireland have gone, and left the bones of their companions behind them. Fifteen—daughters of the first Irish families of the land—have gone, and one or two of high native families in Buenos Ayres. And the loss of 'both' convents, and probable loss of over half a million out of their private dowries could not keep them. And the hallowed associations of their sisters' and companions' graves could not hold them, and the ties of their native land could not hold them, and the prayers and tears of their families could not keep them, and my preaching could not keep them; and the command of their own saintly Archbishop could not keep them. And whither are they gone? Twenty thousand miles across the oceans—some of them to begin life anew in their old age—and to build themselves a home in poverty and peace among strangers. All these mighty sacrifices are not explained—at least to me—by the only explanation I have heard so oft repeated: namely, 'Serves them right—All their own fault.'

And this is your return of gratitude for nearly a quarter of a century of sacrifice and prayer for your sakes, your gratitude for dowries unselfishly spent, the flower of youth and beauty wasted, the world's pleasures and glories spurned, and life itself nobly and heroically offered in the service of your daughters and of your poor! I am indignant with you, O! Irishmen, for you are not the Irishmen I am accustomed to! You have seen what would have shaken Protestant England with indignation from shore to shore: you have seen your daughters and your sisters fly from your embraces to a heartless exile in a land they know not, and to this day you have not taken up your pen, nor lifted your voice, to defend them.

They shall have defenders when those bones shall arise that await the judgment in Mercedes and between Tucuman and Riobamba.

The Irish Nuns are not three months gone, and they and their services are forgotten, except by the poor, who miss them, and the girls they educated. These ears have heard with horror an Irishman exclaim: that the sisters shall not get their money out of this convent if he can hinder them. Will all Irishmen answer Amen? And still other nuns are being brought into their place, by forced marches. Have they been informed of the fate of their predecessors and of the divided and doubtful welcome that awaits them? God help them; they 'shall not have all their crosses to seek for.'

The second stage of possession was that given me by the unanimous vote of the hospital trustees—and promised by some of the others—accepted by my superiors—and from which I was driven by pious intrigue—with details enough for a volume of romance—with gossip enough for all the old women's tea parties in town, and with a long reaching arm of righteous calumny that smote me to the heart far out in the camp. Not that the camp people were against me—far from it. But that holy suspicions about a wolf in sheep's clothing had found mysterious channels from town to work themselves into immoveable judgments out there, and immoveable judgments in the minds of good zealous men have great power to wound by the sword of the tongue. How zeal for religion and love for the poor could have selected such means to a high and holy end, I know not. All the actors may be saints, and if not I pray God to make them saints, but their ways are not my ways, although I am no saint. I gave and give all credit for good intentions, but I returned the keys unasked, and I would not again take possession of that Convent if all the debts were paid and three million of dollars were bestowed on me for taking it—for from that day the ruin of my mission would begin, and in the end I should have to fly with my companions, as the Irish nuns did.

His Grace the Archbishop asked the Convent for nuns, and in this he did what I would have done under the circumstances, were I bishop or a saint, and what Saint Charles Borromeo might have done. He had promised the Irish Nuns every support a father and a bishop could promise, and refused his permission for them to go, yet could not induce them to stay with some of their own countrymen. He saw the Convent become a home for the owls and the bats: he did not know I had possession, and it did not suit some pious people to inform him. In his episcopal zeal he would do what he could for his Irish children—and all Catholics in his wide jurisdiction, of whatever nation or tongue, are his children, and he has to answer for their souls to God. May God bless and reward him. He is the father and protector of every good work for his Divine Master's glory and his children's good.

But, unfortunately, the foreign tongue we Irish speak divides us from him and hinders his Grace from understanding us. If he understood a few Irish of this city and had my experiences of the past few months, I feel sure that in sheer pity for silent, suffering womanhood he never would have asked the Irish Nuns to submit to the mental martyrdom of living among them.

The third stage of the Irish Convent's precarious life is to come. To-morrow assembles a meeting called by the Convent trustees, not by all the trustees of the property, for I am informed the hospital trustees have neither called, nor, as trustees, are they interested in the meeting. It assembles, the notice says—1st. To give opinion about a 'suitable order,' &c. Yet that suitable order is already selected and on the way. 2d. To decide on establishing an orphanage. Yet it is publicly announced that the nuns are coming to form that orphanage. Why is the opinion of the people not asked on the real question about their own property? Why is the real issue kept out of the notice, out of the view of the public, and sedulously concealed from the priests, in an affair impossible of success without the concurrence of both priests and people? Why will be raised the cry of 'priests priests! or no priests!' if the priests do not counsel their people to hatch an egg which neither they nor their people laid or saw laid? Why was there no cackle made after laying it that all might see it and know whether it was worth hatching? Why will people or priests be blamed now if they say 'no,' when their opinion is asked on things on which their opinion is not required in order to conceal things on, which it is required? Is it true that up to the present, when, according to public announcement, everything is arranged, that the people and the owners of the property were ignored, the priests ignored, the claims of the Irish nuns on the property ignored; that my claims, until I had renounced them, were ignored; and that while a clamour is raised for French nuns, with two Irish nuns amongst them, the facts are ignored that there live in your midst French nuns, with as many Irish nuns amongst them; that these nuns have educated and are educating the daughters of Irishmen to the satisfaction of their parents; that those nuns are willing to care all the Irish orphan girls, and are actually caring for, and willing to care as far as nuns can, for the spiritual wants of the Irish servant girls? Yet the camp is called in to register a public opinion about a 'more suitable order of Sisters;' and thus, while they are profiting by their services, to offer an insult to the high-born ladies who conceal their birth, fortune, education and glorious deeds beneath the humble habit of the daughters of St. Vincent de Paul—whose lives, like that of their great founder, have supplied material for the highest flights of historian and poet. After offering that insult, how would they feel when next reading the immortal poem on the Sisters of Charity by our own Gerald Griffin? As they should have felt when the same insult offered to the Sisters of Mercy drove them from your shores. No! let nothing induce you to give an opinion upon the comparative merits of orders of Sisters. They are all good, and the more you have of them the better; for what would become of the world without them?

I have more to say to-morrow, but any more now would tire you, tire your readers, and tire me. I beg of all to take what I have said in good part, for it is well meant; and I entreat all who may read this not to jump at conclusions from what I have said, until they hear me out, and then they will be free to say what they like about me. Some of my best friends advised me to be silent, lest, speaking the truth should ruin my mission. If that could ever ruin it, I acknowledge it a failure upon the very threshhold, and it is better that I should make the experiment before I take responsibilities more difficult to renounce. In this, as in suggesting the Irish Relief Fund, I may be told to 'mind my own business.' I beg to say that I am minding it. My business is to preach charity, scourge double-dealing with the rod of justice and truth, to take the side of the weak and the oppressed, and to defend the right of the orphan and the poor.

Yours truly, in Jesus Christ,
Father Martin,
Passionist.

There was a five cents reaction in gold to-day, a very small business done, and the political pressure much less than yesterday. Gold opened at 30.70 and held firm at that rate all day. The cash sales were only 71,115, but the end of the month is approaching and business for that date increasing, the sales to-day amounted to 313,500, opening at 30.80 (the Provincial Bank price for gold according to its exchange), then dropping to 30.70, and closing at 30.75. For the end of May 45,000 pats sold, but rates for that date also dropped ten cents, and in fact the feeling is each day growing stronger on 'Change that gold during the winter will be lower than now, owing to the large balances all the banks and export merchants hold in Europe. Furthermore there is a better political feeling. The Provincial Senate and Legislature met to-day to scrutinize the elections, and things are not to bad as painted; our public men hold the power to preserve the country in peace; should they let that power slip they themselves will be the first to pay the penalty, and well they know it.

At afterhours a well known political broker sold 70,000 pats cash at 30.70, and for the end of May also sold at 30.70; market at 4 o'clock decidedly weaker. The affair at President Avellaneda's house has done good, as it has opened people's eyes to what things were driving to; there will probably be a pause now; so far and no farther can certain affairs be pushed, and the lesson has already had its effect.

Cedulas suffered a fall and sold as low as 84½ at afterhours: the cause of this sudden drop in a stock so popular is that new Cedulas of to-day's issue were sold on 'Change.

Treasury Notes are rising like Argentine stocks in London, and look as if going to 80. All Nat. Stocks are in strong demand, and Nat. Treasury Bills were done to-day at 12 per cent, a good round amount by an English bill discounter, Nat. Bank Shares 58½.

Exchange rules very quiet, drawers hold to 49⅞, and takers insist on ½, very little done.

Freights no change, 20s and 10 per cent for Antwerp, and 20 frs. and 10 per cent for Havre.

At 4 o'clock gold was sold at 30.65, and the market ruled very weak. The news from the Chambers was that on the revision there are 3 Tejedoristas and 2 Roquistas, and this we suppose eased the political pressure on the subject.

Mr Haase and party left Montevideo to-day in Iberia for the new coal mines in the Straits.

We received to-day from Cordoba a first despatch from our special Tucuman Railway correspondent, which we hold for to-morrow.

At afterhours the following sales:—

"Weighing of bone and bone dust—

"To the Editor of the Shipping and Mercantile Gazette,

"Sir,

"Merchants say the custom of the Port here is to weigh six bags of bones on scale at once, but the smallest weight they use is 7 lbs. I say they ought to weigh to 1 lb, as my charter party says:—"Freight to be paid per ton of 2,240 lbs. delivered." Can any custom (if such an one exists) compel me to have my cargo weighed in such an unjust and absurd manner?

"Yours, &c.,
"Pietro Porcella,
"Master of the Ital. barque Due Luigi.
"Berwick, March 14th, 1880.

"[The shipowner is entitled to freight on the whole weight delivered. No custom of the Port would authorise the weighing short by any weight. The weighing should be exact.]"

"Trial Trip. The new screw steamer Villarino, just completed by Messrs Laird Brothers for the Argentine Government, and intended to be employed as a transport and storeship, made her official trial trip at the mouth of the Mersey on Tuesday, and the results obtained were highly satisfactory to all concerned, the vessel attaining a speed of nearly 12 knots, or fully a knot beyond that stipulated by the contract. The Villarino is an iron vessel, 180 feet long, 30 feet beam, and 14 feet deep in hold, fitted with engines of 800 indicated horse-power. She is now completing for sea in the Birkenhead Dock."

"The following telegram was received this morning at the Consulate General of Uruguay in London, dated Montevideo 15th inst.

"Colonel Latorre's resignation accepted. The House of Representatives have appointed Doctor Francisco Antonio Vidal, Constitutional President of the Republic. Tranquillity prevails."

Our advises from Montevideo are unimportant. The dull season seems to have already set in, and little or no business was done on the Bolsa yesterday. One sale of salted ox hides, 68 lbs. guaranteed at 78½ reals, with an increase of half a real up to 70 lbs is reported, but otherwise saladero produce has had no movement. The barracas are at a stand still, although one sale of wool 6000 to 7000 arrs. was made at a reserved price. Exchange on London in the open market rules at 51¼ to 51⅜ and on Antwerp 5.44. The Bank rates are 51⅜ on London, and 5.40 on Antwerp. A round sum has been passed at these rates, both on London and Paris. On Rio Janeiro some bills at 12$000 reis per £ passed. Yesterday in the patio of the Government House $f12,485.90 was burnt with the usual formality. This amount represents $f3.500 gold. After the official hour the following sales were made—
For cash 10,000 Titulos Adicionales 26 o/o
For to-day 10,700 do 26 do
Do 20,000 do 26⅛
Cash 7,680 Titulos Especiales 6 do
To-day 17,161.60 do 6 do.

Messrs De Harven Freres, under date Antwerp 17th March, 1880, give the following in their important circular:—

Our stock of River Plate wool on January 31st, 1880, amounted to	4,752 bales
Since then have arrived—
From B. Aires	23,064 "
From Montevideo	7,031 "
From Rosario and San Nicolas	3,810 "
From Entre Rios	1,247 "
Total	39,704 bales
Transit wool 7,382 bales
Sales 17,201 "
"damaged wool 197 "
24,780 bales	24,780 "
Stock on hand	14,924 bales

We must look back ten year to find a precedent for such a movement in the wool business as at present.

Since the close of the public auctions of January 30th, 1880, we have gradually seen 17,201 bales River Plate wool moved off in the market, not including 2,000 bales of wool from other parts.

The consequent rise in prices produced by this extraordinary movement in wool has been:
20 to 30c. per kilo on fine B. Aires & Montevideo.
15 to 20c for kilo on ordinary B. Aires and Montevideo.

When comparing to-day's prices with those of October last year we find a rise of value of 20 to 25 o/o in Montevideo wools
15 to 20 o/o in B. Aires wools.

A similar rise has taken place in all the import markets. In London the rise in Australian cross-bred has been still greater, 40 to 50 per cent, on the low quotations of 1879. The late epidemic in sheep in England has greatly influenced the rise of the cross-bred in the London market.

It would be interesting to investigate into the causes which have produced this sudden turn in the wool market, and the consequences this turn will produce.

	Bales.
On Dec. 31st, 1877, our wool stock was	14,380
On Dec. 31st, 1878, do do do	14,166
Or an average of	14,373
On Dec. 31st, 1879, our stock was only	3,817
Or a difference of	10,356
From middle December to date we have disposed of	51,249 bls.
The corresponding periods of 1877 and 1878 and 1879 only show an average of	34,286 "
Disposed of, giving a surplus of	16,963
Or a decrease of	27,319

on the future importation on the Antwerp market. Our total imports last year were to 132,948 bales River Plate wool, and this decrease thus constitutes one-fifth of the consumption in the latter course of the year.

What has happened in Antwerp has also taken place in all the other markets. Still the present prices are yet far underneath the culminating quotations of February and March 1872, when the high prices for Buenos Aires figured at 2.30 fcs. and for Montevideo at 3.20 fcs per kilo, but the causes of the rise then were far different from those at present.

Owing to the extraordinary production wool fell in proportion in the years 1869 and 1870. The check to prices extended the wool industry and gave good profits. In the prosperous period which followed the Franco-Prussian war no notice was taken of the numerous new wool establishments which had arisen and greatly exaggerated manufactures. On the other hand the wool production was increasing and had not reached its maximum; up to 1877 the production increased 46 o/o. Thus the manufacturers surpassed the consumption and were in the sad necessity of leaving their machines idle or of working on unfavorable conditions.

Only since 1877 the production of wool in the Cape, Australia and the River Plate has seemed to have reached the maximum.

On the other hand sheep farming in Europe is daily more restricted.

Meanwhile the manufacturers have gradually moved off their surplus stock, and a reaction has now taken place. The United States gave the impetus and the great colds of late have increased the wool consumption. Thus the wool production has been taken by surprise, and has to meet the increasing demands of consumption. The situation is most prosperous.

Asthma
Himrod's Cure
The discoverer of Himrod's Cure was for twelve years a great sufferer with that terrible disease, Asthma, and for the past nine years wholly unable to engage in active business. After using every remedy that was offered to the public, receiving generally but little benefit, and in no case more than partial and temporary relief, he finally resolved upon a thorough personal investigation into the peculiarities of a disease which has forever baffled the best medical skill, and a series of experiments with a view to the production of an article which would prove to be an effectual cure.
After many trials and failures, he at last succeeded in bringing together the combination which is now offered to the public with the fullest confidence in its value as a cure. It has been thoroughly tested in many of the worst cases, and all conversant with its merits unite in awarding to it the most unqualified praise.

Muy importante para el Publico.

Poseido de la mayor ansiedad, y con el debido respecto al Publico, apelo muy encarecidamente a toda clase de personas, para que se dignen prestarme su apoyo, dando a conocer como tales las malas y aun peligrosas falsificaciones de mis medicinas, hechas principalmente en Nueva York, de que tengan conocimiento.

Especuladores nada escrupulosos adquieren esta broza a un precio sumamente bajo, y la venden como si fuera mis genuinas pildoras y ungüento, logrando con este reprobado trafico una enorme ganancia.

Ninguno de los expresados medicamentos son genuinos, si no llevan en el rotulo de cada bote y caja la inscripcion siguiente; Holloway's Pills and Ointment, 533, Oxford Street, London, y el sello del Gobierno Britanico, con las palabras Holloway's Pills and Ointment, grabadas en el.

Las personas que tengan la bondad de informar de algun traficante que venda las enunciadas medicinas falsas, seran muy bien remuneradas, y nunca, ni en circumstancia alguna, se publicaran sus nombres.
